ADVERSE IMPACT ON DECISION UNIT OBJECTIVES: (Explain what program requirements are not covered at this level of funding, with emphasis on shortfalls in accomplishing one or more of the decision unit objectives.)

This level does not cover the important function of a centralized facility for arranging travel and movement of household effects for employees who must be assigned between headquarters and overseas stations around the world. It also does not cover retirement services other than that minimum required by public law (thus eliminating the Agency's historical program of providing services for advance planning for retirement), does not include the Agency program of Honor and Merit Awards and eliminates completely the Agency program of external employment assistance, and the program of recreational services.

AGENCY AND COMMUNITY IMPLICATIONS: (Describe how the activities in this package relate to specific program plans of other elements of CIA or the Intelligence Community. Indicate efforts made to coordinate within CIA and the Community.)

The activities of this level represent in effect centralized administration of services of common concern to all Agency components, which services can be performed most effectively and most economically in a centralized setting. This eliminates the necessity for the various Agency components to conduct these activities on their own behalf with the attendant inefficiencies, lack of economies, and multiplicity of contacts with external entities.

OUT-YEAR IMPLICATIONS: (Describe how expenditure of resources in this decision package will affect resource requirements in succeeding years, particularly FY 1981.)

It is anticipated that if in the out-years the Agency's activities are restricted to the minimum level that no additional resources will be required for the handling of the programs restricted to this level.
